

PAW PATROL PARTY GAMES

SKYE'S LOOP N' HOOP

Equipment:

Hula hoops, string paper aeroplanes

Have each child make a paper airplane. The children will take turns trying to fly their planes just like Skye. They will try to get them through each hoop.

You can choose to reward those that manage to make it through all of the hoops or if they can make it through one hoop. No matter what they will just be happy to fly like Skye.

ROCKY'S RECYCLABLES

Rocky is big on using everything he can to come up with a solution to the problems that arise. This activity will give all of your guests an opportunity to use things we commonly throw away to help Rocky get down from a cliff.

Equipment:

Grocery shopping sized plastic bags, string, scissors, and something small to weigh down the parachutes (small rocks or small plastic toys to use as weights).

We will cut out small squares (about 5"x5" or so) from the bags and cut holes in each corner of the squares. You will need four pieces of string about 4" each. Have the kids tie one string to each corner hole and attach the other ends to the object you chose to weigh down. Once the parachutes are done the kids can take turns standing on a chair and testing their parachutes to make sure they work.

Zuma's Water Rescue

For this game you'll need a small tub with some water in it - you could even use your bathtub. You will also need some small figures, some magnets, a string, and a nail.

Before the party you will need to super glue the magnets onto the figures (we used army men). You will also need to tie the string onto the nail - or anything metal that the magnet will stick to.

Before you begin the game fill your tub with about 5 inches of water. Spread the figures out across the bottom of the tub magnet side up.

RUBBLE'S TROUBLE

Rubble needs help loading rocks into his dump truck so he can get the job done.

Equipment:

Cotton balls (rocks), a bowl, plastic spoons, a timer, and a dump truck. If you don't have a dump truck you can just use an extra bowl. Fill the bowl with the rocks and place on the table.

When the game begins the player will have to load the rocks into the dump truck using the spoon. They will be timed so they have to move as quickly as they can. They can only use one hand to do this. Once everyone has completed their turn the person with the fastest time wins the game.

Pin the Badge on Chase

For this game you will need a print out a picture of Chase with his badge showing. You will need to print out several other badges for the kids to use for the game. You can make things a bit easier by writing the names of the players on each badge and place a piece of double sided tape on the back of each

Hang the picture of Chase on a wall and have a blindfold ready. Have the children line up about four feet from the Chase poster. Hand the first person in line their badge and place a blindfold on them. You can spin them in a circle if you like and let them walk to the poster and pin the badge on Chase. Leave the badges up each time. After everyone has played you will see who got the closest to the right spot on Chase. The winner gets a small prize.

MARSHALL'S FIRE FRENZY

There is a big fire and Marshall needs everyone's help to put it out.

Equipment: soft balls or bean bags. Three red cups. Laminated flames to stick on the cups.

The children take turns to throw the balls at the fire pile of cups and knock them down. Winner is the one who knocks them all down in the fastest time (if more than one knocks them down).

You can do this outside using actual water balloons if you wish.

Ryder's Rescue Mission

All of the pups have lost their rides and don't know where to find them and Ryder needs everyone's help. Now it is up to your guests to bring all of them back their rightful owners and quickly.

For this game you will need to print out a picture of each of the pups and a picture of their rides. There is a list below of each character and their ride to use as reference.

Keep all of the pictures of the pups out and place them on a table. You will need to hide the pictures of the rides around the room. Depending on the age group you are dealing with you can do things to make them easier to find. For example you can tape some to the walls, lay one out on a table, one on a window, or hanging from a ceiling fan pull cord. Once all the vehicles have been collected they must match them up to the rightful owners. You can reward everyone with a small prize for their hard work!

Paw Patrol Bingo

Adopt a Puppy

I'll bring along a selection of puppy soft toys, who I tell the kids are all in need of adopting. Each child gets to choose a puppy and select a new collar for him/her and then they get an Adoption Certificate to take home (they don't get the puppy!).

PUP PUP BOOGIE

Our next activity was Pup Pup Boogie! If you have seen the show you know that the pups like a video game called Pup Pup Boogie. It's like a Dance Dance Revolution type game on the show with a catchy tune. Nick Jr. had a really cute version on their website so I went with that vs. making up my own version. put the paw prints down on the ground to dance on/around and the game spinner was stapled to the wall. Depending on what you landed on – you had to do that pup's move. The poster above the spinner explained the moves. It was super cute and the kids had fun for a few minutes with it
